Mr.H.L.Jani, Government Pleader for Respondent No. 1, 3

CORAM : MR.JUSTICE K.R.VYAS

Date of decision: 10/08/98

ORAL JUDGEMENT

1. The petitioner has filed this petition under Article 226 of the Constitution of India challenging the legality and validity of the order, dated 28.1.1998 passed by the Police Commissioner Rajkot city under section 3(2) of the Gujarat Prevention of Anti-Social Activities Act, 1985 (hereinafter referred to as "the PASA Act").

2. In the grounds of detention supplied to the detenu, the detaining authority has placed reliance on two prohibition cases which are at the pending trial and investigating stage and statements of many witnesses for the alleged incidents, dated 1.8.97, 2.1.1997 and 14.12.1997 were led by the detaining authority. On all these occasions concerned witnesses were beaten by the petitioner when the petitioner was not allowed to carry on the illegal activity of selling of country liquor near the shop of the witness. Then on another occasion the concerned witness was beaten when he refused to store the cans containing liquor at his shop. When the witnesses were beaten many persons of the locality gathered to watch incident, but however, they started running helter skelter when the petitioner and her associates started running towards them with open knife and consequently atmosphere of fear was created. Taking into consideration this material, the detaining authority recorded finding that the petitioner being a "bootlegger" within the meaning of Section 2(b) of the PASA Act and with a view to preventing him from acting in any manner prejudicial to the maintenance of public order passed the impugned order of detention against the petitioner which has been challenged by the petitioner by way of this petition.

3. On behalf of the detenu, it was contended that even if the allegations made against the detenu are accepted as true, it is too much to brand her as a bootlegger. The Supreme Court in Piyush Kantilal Mehta vs Commissioner of Police, Ahmedabad city, AIR 1989 SC 491 on similar allegations made against the detenu in that case has held that the offences alleged against the detenu in the order of detention and also the allegations made by the witnesses could not be said to have created any feeling of insecurity or panic or terror among the members of the public of the area giving rise to the question of maintenance of public order. The order of detention could not therefore be upheld. In view of this decision, it is not possible for me to uphold the order of detention in the present case. The allegations made against the detenu by the witnesses are minor incidents of beating by the detenu and which could not be said to create feeling of insecurity among the general public. In view of this, the order of detention is vitiated.

4. In the result, this petition is allowed. The order of detention dated 28.1.1998 is quashed and set aside. The detenue--Smt.Halimaben, D/o Ibrahimbhai Belim is ordered to be released forthwith, if not required in connection with anyother offence. Rule is made absolute accordingly with no order as to costs.
